CATCHMENT CHRISTIANS

How do you get your kid into one of the top primary schools in the country when the closest you've come to Anglicanism is a stint in the Scouts?

Pete and Finola will do anything to get their child the best education faith can buy – anything except confront secrets from Finola's Catholic childhood.

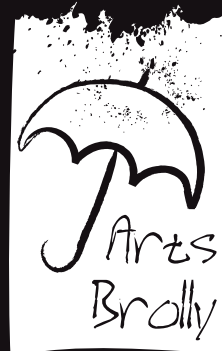

But now those secrets are going to confront them, as Finola's violent past explodes into the present.

Spanning three decades and featuring live Irish music, Helen Kelly's funny, moving play turns the spotlight on that peculiar 21st Century creature – the CATCHMENT CHRISTIAN.
